"But there is a price — injuries.
There are a lot of injuries and an increase in risk means an increase in injuries. Beginners are most at risk. Younger beginners will be injured and some will be killed."

Alva

Leaning back and edging out at Gonzo's.

This is a personal opinion. While Alva's remarks reflect the opinions of this magazine, we're allowing him the freedom to speak his mind to much of it. It is, after all, his personal interview, not ours.

Therefore, with this word of caution we'll leave it up to you to decide if Alva is a martyr or just another four-letter word. W.B., Editor
